CROSSLEY HALL

F O R E

We of the 1943 GATEWAY have tried to express in these several pages the deep feelings and emotions that rise in us as we leave this Hill for futures enveloped in the uncertainties of war. The years spent here will become a lasting part of our memories, a bulwark of strength for difficult tasks of national service. It will be strange not to hear the bustle and chatter in West Hall, not to walk stealthily across the athletic field in fear of some Student Council member, not to sing lustily songs of Hermon, such as our Alma Mater and Lights on Hermons Hill.

Farewell, Mount Hermon! May thy traditions be upheld securely by followers through the strain of war and in the rest of peace.

IN SPECIAL APPRECIATION

IN times of tense feelings and raging strife, the quiet, friendly manner of Dr. Porter has served to keep us steady and true to our course. The firm hand extended to us on our first day, the quiet talks and advice that have had as profound effect on us in their manner as in their messages, and the quickening influence of his understanding leadership — for these are we especially grateful. When we, the Seniors, leave this hill, perhaps for the last time, we shall be parting from a friend and a helper whom we cannot adequately repay, a friend whose influence will continue to strengthen and guide us in the difficult days ahead.

Yet, our loss as Seniors will be the loss of the whole school, for Dr. Porter also is leaving this hill. He has accepted a call to enter into a much larger field of endeavor, the work of the International Red Cross and the War Prisoners Aid of the World Committee of the Y.M.C.A., where, he feels, he can render his best service in the re-education of war prisoners throughout the world. In the history of Mt. Hermon School this year marks the end of one important era and the beginning of another, on which all true Hermonites pray God may shed his grace, as in past days he has done.

THE MOUNT HERMON ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

FOUNDED 1888 — REORGANIZED 1900

GAYLORD W. DOUGLASS, '96
Alumni Secretary

The Mount Hermon Alumni Association for more than forty years has been a significant part of the work on the Hill. There are nearly 12,000 former Hermon students living today in all parts of the world. Over 9,000 of these are on the regular alumni mailing list. The alumni offices maintained in Holbrook Hall under the direction of the Alumni Secretary and Miss Mary T. Baker, who has been associated with this office since December 1920.

The Association keeps in touch with Hermon men everywhere by correspondence — establishes and fosters Hermon Clubs in cities and communities throughout the entire U.S.A. — publishes the Alumni News, that Hermon men may know the activities and experiences of fellow Hermonites — and develops the D. L. Moody Living Endowment to help other boys today receive the service which was rendered to them when they were on the Hill.

CLASS HISTORY

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson
and Family,
Class Teachers

UNFORGETTABLE to the men of '43 are Mr. and Mrs. Gibson, whose guiding hands have helped us to overcome in the last four years many obstacles — social, academic, and personal. These few words are but a futile attempt to express our gratitude for their indispensable guidance and our happiness that we have been able to share our Hermon experiences with two unusually delightful people.

ON September 11, 1939, the Class of 1943, composed of fifty innocent freshmen and Henry Snyder, sneaked in through the gates on the apronstrings of their parents; somehow managed to survive the preliminary Holbrook third degree, and then staggered up to Cottage Row, where a steady line of self-appointed school officials had already formed to descend like vultures, at the very moment of the parents' departure, to wring radiator fees from the necks of the unsuspecting. That was the day when two glasses were set beside each place, and a second butter was had for the asking. (The next day the parents were gone.)

Life then became dull routine after Ben Gunn, Inc., gave hours to half the class for sleeping in Chapel. (Oh why did Waymouth have to snore!) For the first few weeks the Seminary was but an idle rumor, but Mira Wilson was not slow to make her annual bid for number one pin-up girl among the new students. Finally, Bob Jones broke the ice by browbeating Frank Glock into a first, one, and only date before launching himself into his own spectacular career. But days of bliss were shortlived, and dull routine reigned king until the approach of Hallowe'en and "dorm night" when many a bewildered freshman locked himself securely in his room and proceeded to undergo a modern version of Saint Vitus Dance.

Soon, the fifty freshmen were no longer innocent: they were sophomores. Chuck Keevil was class boss with Bob Jones and Frank Glock as his right and left hand men. Gordon MacIver sneaked in as treasurer, and the books haven't balanced since. Opening day found Ruffy Magoon and the boys up at Cottage Row collecting radiator fees in the tactful way. "Welcome to our humble abode, brother Hermonites, and cough up before we knock .....". With the commencement of this new school year the Rev. William E. Park was installed as President of the Northfield Schools, and the first issue of The Hermonite blazed with the daring caption "Ivory, Petschke, Niblock Sail Sea of Matrimony." Early in December the Dartmouth Glee Club, with Buzz Willis, Hermon '37, as President, visited the Hill as part of their concert tour. And so on to the middle part of the winter, when Wally Langille emerged from the ranks of the obscure to track down the Gill School House Raiders in his bid to fame, and the Crossley-Overtoun snow battle of the ages turned into a battle royal with nearly a broken nose, eh Smitty?, so that the whole campus had 7:30 study hall for a month. Thus, the year passed into peaceful Spring — for all but Warren Brown, who amused himself in his spare time by ducking stray bottles thrown outside the windows.

The Junior season opened with a splash as the honorable Class of '43 set a new record for going through Shadow Lake in the quickest time yet achieved — fifty seconds. Head man in the political lineup was Bob Jones, with McLamore and Schadler as henchmen. Gus Eddy filled the vacancy left by reelected treasurer MacIver, who for some vague reason was on a leave of absence for one year. Mr. Peltz and Mr. Meyers were newly weds of the season. Extra-curricular activities boomed in popularity as "Galloping Dominoes" became the North Crossley rage. That fall, the cross-country team walked off with the New England Preparatory School Championships.

With the onslaught of Winter, Dr. Porter was elected President of the National Cum Laude Society. The Hermon Players found themselves reorganized by Mr. and Mrs. Morrow, Bill Arrott making his sensational dramatic debut as the corpse in Mr. and Mrs. North. The advent of Spring brought Todd Duncan, baritone lead of Porgy and Bess, to Hermon. Iolanthe was presented with marked finesse by the combined Glee Clubs of Hermon and the Seminary under the direction of T.D., and the year came to a rather inglorious end as a recruited mumps germ precluded the necessity of final examinations.

Chuck Keevil headed the local Gestapo as the great year for the Class of '43 began. Big Jim McLamore, with cronies Schadler, Royar, and Hoelzer in the class officerships, completed the rostrum. The rope pull became revolutionized as the rope broke twice, leaving only enough line for fifty men on each side, with the result that '43 remained undaunted. "Social Reform" became the battle cry of the two schools. There was a lot of talk. Football fans saw a long-awaited dream realized when that fifth game — with Deerfield — was scheduled and won. Hermon Curricula felt the touch of war, and the Victory Corps became a reality. Guaranteed was the Hermon Class of '60, as one Niblock, one Petschke, one Allen, and one Rineer swelled the population. Unforgettable, though, will be Lazy Leander, whose blustering invasion with his Mount Hermon Rangers held the campus in complete turmoil for weeks while the hydraulic ram stalked the countryside. Then came the measles; then went the Seminary.

At last Spring and the Senior Party that was canceled because of a botany lecture at the Seminary! The first few days after vacation brought forth the startling news that Dr. Porter was resigning to resume work in the Y.M.C.A.; this time as head of the Prisoner of War Relief Committee. Then the Class of 1943 settled down to enjoy its last days at Hermon before graduating and taking up the arms of its nation.

THE SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

THE Reverend William Lanyon pronounced us man and wife, and then we were on our way to the great outer world that Dr. Johnson had so often explained to us. I left my wife to study my business itinerary and headed for the station. My chauffeur, Harry King, reported to me that he had just visited Tiger Pearson's famous joint on West Thirty-first Street, and to his surprise, the efforts of our former classmate had not been in vain, for he had already reared seven blonde-haired boys. When we reached the station and I got out, I heard the strangest sound; it was like a siren, blowing continuously for five minutes. When it stopped, I asked Wisbey, the train porter, what all the noise was for, to which he replied that Carl Bannwart was resuming practice as a fog horn for NBC.

Just as I was boarding the train headed for Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McLamore (she was the former Miss Barbara Schott) appeared in a rather silent manner. I asked them how things were going, and Big Jim informed me that Bill Arrott and "Whip" Trevithick were sponsoring a gala floor show featuring some of his past prodigies from the Seminary. Smiling, I passed on with my head bent down only to hit a stone wall. I looked up; there was the husky stomach of Art Cart in my face. After asking him what the score was, I learned that he was taking breathing exercises as prescribed by Drs. Hoelzer and Williamson, experts in vultching. I sat down to read the newspaper. There streaming across the front page were these words: GENERAL KREN AND THREE DRUNK PRIVATES, KEEVIL, KRUEGER, AND KING CAPTURE 100,000 JAPS AT HOI-MING.

I detriained at the great seaport of Boston. I stayed at the Morons' Hotel where Rollin Mayer, the clerk, called me a squirt. I proceeded to the elevator. Criswell, the operator, opened the door, beat on the floor, and said no more. Stan Welch, the janitor, swept, wept, and slept at the same time. That evening I was entertained by the FOUR MOMOS — Irish, Stewart, Beizer, and Downing, as they sang "The Ole' Gray Mare She Sat in the 'lectric Chair, Burnt off Her Underwear, and Said that She Didn't Care!" Bob Bodington and R. K. Smith gave me one too many martinis at the bar; so I turned in for the night.

Heading north the next day, I made a short stop at White River Junction, Vt., where Dave Smith was logging for the winter, and where I happened to see a poster which read: "Peanut Johnston's Ski School, just off Route 5. Restricted to ladies only. Also ice follies every evening featuring Richard Manville, Sally Gibson, and Lou Jones."

I met Operator Oat on the train further north, and we stayed together at Montreal that evening. There we found Waymouth and Friedmann in their Zoot Soots. We easily tempted them to accompany us to witness the extensively advertised wrestling match between Tracy Utley and Dick Getty. The next noon we stayed at the Chateau Frontenac at Quebec, where Jack Ferguson and his Jive Five were featuring Frankie Wilson every evening. Jack beat the piano till the ivories stood up on ends and talked back to him, while Frankie peeled the paper off the walls with his sharp voice.

Travelling westward, I stopped at a farm in Saskatchewan to find Bill Hickok, Phil Ozab, and Doug Macomber masters of the art of agriculture. Belonga, Bob Arnold, and Bob Ellis were also on hand every Saturday night to shake a leg with the farmers' daughters at the barn dance. Much to my surprise, I found Lee Hassinger riding pigs and Alan Brown feeding chickens, while Bob Chapin gazed on in wonderment.

I rolled on to Vancouver, British Columbia, where Allan Attwater and Loren Smith were selling fresh sardines. They were also shipping some of their poorer species to Bill Clark, the new head of West Hall. Flight Lieutenant Lewis Rogers flew me up to Kiska, where Eric Bunzel was delivering Victory Books to the soldiers and telling them husky stories of old Hermon days.

By special permission of Lieut. Commander Hunter, I was allowed to take a voyage to Hawaii via submarine. The first member of the crew was Tweet Fairbanks, and what a mess! His head was swathed in bandages. When I asked him what the trouble was, he replied that it took him six weeks to get used to the low ceiling and doorway in the sub. Schurman and Dave Boehnke seemed to be enjoying themselves. You should see their exhibition of more than 100 glorified girls whom they called on in every port.

On the third night we rose to the surface and entered Pearl Harbor. I was just in time to witness a most spectacular hula dance featuring the Bilkirk twins. Housman, as usual, was on hand, and Bob Jones had skipped off from his night watch at the barracks to adore these fanciful figures. Corporal Schadler, once one of Hermon's best dancers, somehow or other could not seem to swing his hips around in rhythmic fashion, but he surely got around those beautiful women. Stinky Davis stared with his mouth wide open, for this was not one of the situations that commonly confronted him. Certainly, we should have mentioned that our old friend Red Gordon was there watching the dancers, and he cried, "T-T-T-T-T-Ta-Ta-Ta-Ta-Take it off."

After several days of adventure on the lonely Pacific outpost I was flown back to the States. Sunshine Crittenden beamed at me as I stepped down from the flying boat at San Francisco. He and I ventured through Chinatown and dropped in to see Choppa Chen's Chow House and Sammy Sze's Sumptuous Salon.

Hollywood was the next stop. There, Marshall Climan's new production, I Gave Her the Once Over, featuring Russell G. Fey and W. Lee Perry had just been released. Confidential reports indicated that cameraman Dave Osborne had to shorten the love scene between Hold On Quigley and Rita Hayworth. Producers Parks and Bramhall wandered around from night club to night club seeking entertainment with their most formidable Hermon approach, and finally, after nine months of seeking, both of them had married feminine vocalists from the Stork Club. Bob Ajamian, research editor for night activities in Hollywood, drove me to R.K.O.'s zoo. There Jack Heilman was training lions, and Dick Hoffman working in an elephant's den thirty-two hours a day. Tom Frank and Louis Haskell were practicing underwater swimming with the mermaids, and Bill Colby was petting his favorite Russian Bear, Al Devenis.

On the way to Randolph Field, Texas, I met a travelling book salesman named Whitaker who showed me some of the latest novels. The Telephone and Its Use, by Dial; It Happened On a Cold Winter's Morning, by Frost and Snow; The Truck and Its Importance, by Maack; How to Win Women and Lose Money, by Rod Hungerford; The Immobility of Confucius' Left Toe, by Alter; The Intestines and Their Importance in Moving Fast, by Buker; How Far Is It to Heaven? by Miles; Hermon Men Are Fast Workers, by Swift; The Problems of Women in a Crisis, by Magoon; How Hermon Eats, by R. E. Smith; Boogie Woogie and Beethoven Combined, by J. S. Nims; Nightwalking, by Schanck; I Asked Her and She Told Me, by Given.

The following day I enjoyed a most wonderful experience in New Orleans, where Tom Bartram, Bill Lozier, and Rowe Wellard were hauling in $20.00 an hour at their gambling casino, while mastermind Sipperly fingered the adding machine as fast as he could go. Alan Tobie and Harry Lown dropped in occasionally to discuss the psychological effects of gambling on the individual.

My last stop before returning to New York City was that vast, seething confusion — Washington, D. C. Neil Frink appeared at the airport with a pair of scissors to cut the red tape, and then we started on our tour. Our first stop was an interview with President Frank J. Glock and his cabinet. Secretary Trowern was trying to negotiate a peace treaty with Moronia, and Sec. of Commerce Nelson was figuring out a new plan proposed by Senator Robinson of Massachusetts, — namely, that of illegal transportation via a tunnel across the five mile hyphen between Mount Hermon and East Northfield. John Wilbur, the new Secretary of the Treasury, was trying to introduce a bill for the establishment of currency on the duodecimal system, while the Secretary of Labor Sturup was clamoring for higher wages for working students. That boy will never cease trying to stir up excitement. Paul Royar, Secretary of National Athletics, had insisted on more money to purchase horses for the nation's jockeys, but seventy-year-old John Wadhams, Secretary of Agriculture, had just stated that, owing to a shortage in thoroughbreds, the case should be submitted to Van Deusen and Van Orden, Inc., hobby horse manufacturers.

We left our corrupt leaders to visit the Library of Congress, where Bob Fleckles was supervising. Bookkeeper Hafner was seriously delving into The Upkeep of Business, by Downs. Bob Becker was engaged as chief artist, and Bill Barclay secured for us the latest material on the whereabouts of Vance MacCracken, ex-convict from Sing Sing.

I was then escorted to the "New and Better Ration Bureau," where OPA administrator Gretzler and WPB Boss McIver had just placed a priority on women's lipstick. It seems as though Eugene Harmon and John MacCracken, chief chemists of Heiser & Heiser and Co., T.N.T. manufacturers, had only recently perfected a powerful lipstick, and our two rationing officials strongly objected to it. A priority rating was given also to P. T. Clarke and Co., manufacturers of women's apparel and supporters of flashy feminine frocks.

George Stone and Frederick Staples were the new heads of the U. S. Censor Bureau, which had just barely passed Wendell Riggs' latest production, She Was Like I Thought She Would Be, starring Cyrus Mayshark and Carrington Thomas. The censor officials reported that Bill Brown and Rudy Brandt had written a well-versed theological "bull-slinger" which easily passed the standards, but that Bill Marsland's latest phamplet on My Professors at Hermon had to be restricted somewhat.

I met Thies and Taylor, banana salesmen and liquor experts, at the station. They told me that Ted Simpson was sent to jail for trying to sell Dave Rollason the Washington Monument. This last incident ended the long list of the class of 1943, and I journeyed solemnly back to New York, but alas, to my surprise, I had not seen Bob Spofford, who I just remembered, had been appointed to the faculty of Northfield Seminary.

FOOTBALL

IN the opening game with Deerfield the Hermon team showed versatility in attack and a solid defense, featuring both line smashes and tricky reverses. On several plays in the second half it traveled eighty yards and was halted on the ten-yard line by a clipping penalty. In the last quarter, however, Lou Jones of Hermon intercepted a pass on the Deerfield 45. Royar went through center for a gain, and then Jones raced to the five on an end run, and Royar smashed through tackle for the score.

The second game of the season saw a speedier Stockbridge eleven overpower the Hermon squad 10-0. In the last minutes of the first period she turned to the air, only to see Bowles intercept a pass on the forty and gallop sixty yards for a touchdown. The ball was called back, however, and Hermon was penalized for clipping. In the second half Stockbridge tried an aerial attack and scored on a long pass. The conversion was good. She intercepted a pass immediately after the kick off, and, after advancing the ball to the Hermon ten by a reverse, kicked a field goal.

Playing in very windy weather, the Hermon squad was crushed by its host, Wilbraham, which scored on a long end run in the first quarter. Wilbraham opened the second half by scoring on another end run, and this time the try for the extra point was successful. The last quarter witnessed a kicking duel with Bowles sending a quick punt over the opponent's goal line. This was the farthest the home team advanced the ball, the game ending 13-0.

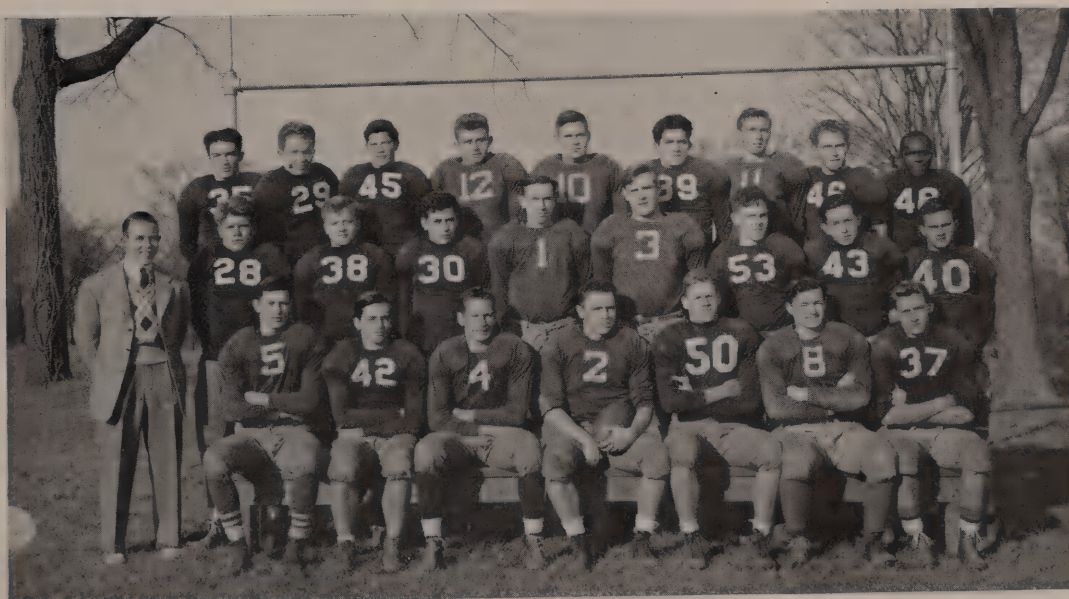

Bouncing back from the defeat by Wilbraham, the Maroon swamped Vermont 20-0. In the opening quarter, the Orange and Black was battered back to her twenty, where Bowles hoisted a touchdown pass into the arms of Levis. Hermon scored again in this quarter when Dickson recovered a blocked punt on the enemy six-yard line. Royar scored through center, and Willets produced the extra point. In this quarter the Orange and Black made a desperate stand on her one-foot line.

In the final game of the season Williston edged out the Maroon 13-12. In the second quarter, Royar made a twenty-six-yard run through tackle to the Williston six. Bowles battered the center for two yards, and then Harry Shadler scampered over the goal line on a reverse play, but the conversion failed. Williston scored early in the second half when Czelusniak raced forty-three yards down the sideline to tie the score. The extra point was made. The Blue and Gold started a touchdown march after this tally, and after several tries Chase ran through guard to score. The conversion, however, failed. In the last quarter Schadler duplicated his second-quarter performance as he swept into the end zone on a wide reverse. The point after was blown wild, and the game ended 13-12.

The Maroon had only a reasonably good season, winning 40 per cent of her games. She started out well by Shellacking Deerfield 6-0, but dropped a 10-0 game to Stockbridge. Her losing streak continued when Wilbraham defeated her 13-0, but was broken when she swamped Vermont 20-0. The season ended as Williston edged out a 13-12 victory.

SOCCKER

THE Hermon soccer team finished a satisfactory season with two victories, one tie, and one defeat — to our arch-rival, Deerfield, victors for four consecutive years, and a team rated as New England Champs.

The season's starter found Wilbraham marooned 3-0 in a beautiful shut-out, during which she had not one opportunity to score, as Cy Mayshark, Bert Larkin, and Johnny Wu pounded the opponent's goal for tallies. Kimball Union met a similar fate on the Hermon field. A powerful juggernaut kept driving the ball deep into K. U. territory until a second-quarter clash between Cy Mayshark and the goalie in front of the net ended with the ball in the Kimball Union goal. From then on, the game was too close a match for either side to score till the closing minutes of the last period, when Big Dick Manville booted the ball into the upper corner of the net just out of the goalie's reach.

Captain Cy Mayshark.

The Deerfield tangle brought together two undefeated teams. In the first period Hermon defense held firm, and the battle royal was on. In the last half, however, the Green and White rallied not only to tie the Maroon, but to run away with the game, sinking four in all.

In the final game of the season Williston and Hermon fought a goalies' battle in a high cross-wind to a scoreless tie with the spectacular play of fullbacks Lee Perry and Norton Gretzler, one of the outstanding feats of the game.

CROSS COUNTRY

THE 1942 cross country squad outdid its undefeated predecessors of the last seven years by shattering three records in addition to continuing the Maroon winning streak.

Williams freshmen were the first to feel the sting of defeat at the hands of Hermon's harriers as Louis Newcomb paced the Maroon aggregate to turn in the best time of all Hermon men to ever run there.

Coach Allen's charges ran roughshod over Stockbridge Academy with a perfect score, 15-40, as Newcomb again far outdistancing the field smashed the old course marker of 15:01 to turn in the record time of 14:57.8, while Norm Buker and Dick Foster crossed the line well in advance of the opposition.

Thanksgiving Day with its annual Alumni run marked the betterment of Oldershaw's record time of 13:45.3 set in 1935 as Noop Newcomb clipped twenty-four seconds off the former mark. The next man to cross the line was Willie Foster, '42, who for Northeastern had just captured 18th place in the New England Intercollegiates.

War time restrictions canceled the Andover New England Prep-school Championships, but the cup for last year's first place will remain on the Hill until the meet is next held.

SWIMMING

THE Maroon Swimming Team, captained by record-breaking Chuck Hoelzer, continued on its winning streak of previous years and completed another undefeated season. This year's group, although without George Eddy and several other lettermen, developed swiftly into one of the best Netter-coached teams.

The first meet of the year was with Deerfield, and through the fine efforts of all the swimmers, Mount Hermon was victorious by a score of 38-28. Don Butler broke the existing pool record in the forty-yard dash in the excellent time of 19 seconds. As if to keep the record-breaking streak, Hoelzer, Butler, and Keiser then smashed the medley relay record.

On February 27, Hermon journeyed to Amherst and literally swamped the Mass. State J. V.'s by an overpowering score of 52-13. The Maroon natators captured seven out of the eight possible first places, the medley team again breaking the existing school record. Outstanding in this meet was the swimming of Sophomore Nicoll, who lowered his previous best effort by 8 seconds in winning the 220 yard swim.

The last meet of the year was with Deerfield. Once again, the Nettermen emerged victorious, this time by the score of 34-32; and once again the Maroon broke pool records, Hoelzer in the 100 yard breaststroke, and Don Butler in the 50 yard sprint.

To climax it all a three-man team of Hoelzer, Butler, and Thomas entered the Brown Swimming Carnival. Hoelzer and Butler captured first places in their respective races, and with Thomas placed second in the medley relay. The three-man team finished in fifth place. With a full team, they might have easily finished first.

HOCKEY

DESPITE the fact that Hermon had one of the best teams that it has turned out in recent years, and that it constantly, game after game, outplayed its opponents (with the one exception of the first Deerfield game) it still wound up the season with the disappointing total of three losses and one victory.

The season started with a slam-bang encounter with Williston Academy. From the opening face off the Maroon men were constantly pounding at the enemy's net, but almost all of the shots were wild, and Williston, succeeded in eking out a 2-1 decision with next year's captain elect Frank Ring netting the only Hermon goal.

The following week the Maroon came up against a speedy and tricky Deerfield sextet, and despite the superb playing of Captain Manville, Ajemian, Jones, and Bodington, she was snowed under by a 6-3 score.

Then on February 6th came the biggest hearbreaker of all, for in the last four minutes disaster struck. The Vermont team was suddenly rejuvenated, and before a spiritless Maroon team could reply, they had first tied the score, and then in the last minute slipped in the goal that won the game 4-3.

There was a new spirit in the team as it took to the ice in its return match with Deerfield, and it was evident that it was out to redeem itself, which it certainly did. From the first whistle maroon players were virtually all over the ice. With Ajemian and Manville each netting two goals and the rest of the team fighting and working together, they smashed the Green and White to shreds and emerged victoriously 4-0.

BASKETBALL

Captain Rowe Wellard.

COACHED by Mr. Rineer, a newcomer to the ranks of basketball coaching, the Mount Hermon Basketeers turned in a record of three wins and two losses.

The Hermon aggregation faced the Stockbridge Aggies in the opener and scored a thrilling 40-38 overtime victory. The Maroon had to overcome a three-point deficit in the second half, and with one minute of playing time remaining, Hermon sank the winning basket.

The most exciting game of the season was the one at Deerfield, where Captain Charlie Wellard chalked up 26 points to lead the Maroon to a 53-49 victory.

Undefeated Mount Hermon came up against an unconquered Williston quintet for its third contest and succumbed to a superior Blue and Gold squad. Williston rapidly roared ahead in the second half to win 44-22.

In the first home game of the season Royar and Wellard set the pace in a 39-29 victory over Kimball Union. K.U.A. succeeded in pulling into a two-point advantage in the second period, but Hermon's defense checked any further enemy thrusts.

The teams battled it out evenly in the return match with Deerfield until midway in the third period when Deerfield forged ahead and went home victorious in a 28-20 ball game.

SKIING

Captain-Coach Peanut Johnston.

THE 1942-43 ski team was one of the best in the past few years. Although the Maroon Snowbirds dropped a close meet to Deerfield by the score of 295-285, they registered a victory over Putney.

Bob Hutchinson and George Irish piled up a number of points in the jumping at Vermont Academy and Charlie Rogers added several more in the slalom, the final count, however, being in favor of the opponents. In the Deerfield meet, Hutchinson was high scorer, and Rogers and Johnston succeeded in gaining a few points in the slalom, which Norm Buker broke the record on the cross-country trail. In the Putney meet Big Wilkie Wilkinson and Dave Smith scored in the jumping, and Tom Brigham took an easy first in the slalom, to cop the meet 298-295.

Special recognition is given to Captain "Peanut" Johnston at this time. In the absence of a faculty coach, and despite the fact that he had a broken arm, the diminutive snowbird took over the full task of coaching both the varsity and the Junior League.

JUNIOR LEAGUE

MOUNT HERMON'S Junior League, starter to acquaint boys under sixteen years of age with athletics, has proved an increasing benefit to the varsity teams. The Junior League, which is compulsory for the younger students, has developed the hidden skill of many boys. It offers them excellent opportunity to become acquainted with athletic activities and to know the proper rules of the games and of sportsmanship, for clean, hard fighting has been a key word to this organization. Much credit should be extended to the coaches of the various teams for giving the boys such a helpful start in athletics. The varsity coaches realize more each year the true value of the Hermon Junior League.

JUNIOR LEAGUE: Those boys in the school who were under sixteen.

WRESTLING

UNDER the watchful eye of Coach Campbell and the able leadership of Captain Bobby Waymouth, an impressive wrestling team was rounded out during the 1942-43 season.

The grunt-and-groan boys dropped a tough one to Amherst College Freshmen in the first meet, losing 19-11. The first three Hermon light-weights, Welliver, who pinned his man, Kaligian, and Waymouth, won their bouts; but following the tallies of these battlers there were no more points added to the Hermon score sheet.

In the second meet, with Suffield, Hermon was on the long end of a 30-6 score. Again the light-weight trio triumphed. Bob Elliott and the fifteen-year-old Harmon, avenging their previous defeats, also glued their Suffield contestants to the mat. The only Hermon matmen to lose were the 165-pound Herb Soule and the 175-pound Dick Van Deusen, who was fighting with a bad ankle. Dick Hoffman, the unlimited king on the hill, completed the prosperous day by administering another Hermon fall late in the third period.

THE CAPTAINS' CLUB

THE Captains' Club is composed of the captains of the varsity teams. The purpose of the club is to act as advisers between coaches and teams. The main object is to further the athletic program in every way possible. Some of the club's projects this year were the choosing of cheer leaders and the administering of the work of the group teams. Last spring the club took charge of the Interscholastic Track meet and continued the policy this year. The members acted as guides and assistants to the officials. This organization has added much to the sports program this year, as it doubtlessly will continue to do in the future.

SPRING SPORTS

THE spring sports of the 1942 season created a good record despite the fact that toward the end they had to contend with an epidemic of the mumps. Because of this, no formal pictures could be taken. Ignoring handicaps, the several teams turned in a total of 88 per cent victories. Baseball halved the season, winning two out of four games, while Lacrosse annexed three victories out of four. Tennis missed an undefeated season by one match, losing that to Deerfield. This meant five successes out of six starts. The track team found victory in three meets, one of which was triangular. It also took second place in the Interscholastic Meet, despite the fact that eight of the Hermon trackmen were confined with the mumps. Golf continued its three-year undefeated record by tying Kimball Union in its sole match.

Baseball, captained by Jack Burke, dropped its opener to Deerfield by a 4-3 score. Still suffering this defeat, the Maroon failed to stop Williston, and the Blue and Gold triumphed, 3-1. Smarting under these losses, the home squad overpowered Vermont Academy, 10-4. Now riding on the crest of victory, Coach Myers' charges subdued the Mass. State Frosh, 7-2. In the Class Day game that lasted eleven innings, the team dropped its final contest to Deerfield, 3-1.

The Lacrosse squad, led by Captain Louie Soule, had a very successful season, bowing only to Deerfield, the New England Prep School Champions. In the first game of the season, the Deerfield Seconds eked out a 4-3 victory. The Springfield Freshmen were swamped by a 17-2 score, as Soule poured in nine goals. Kimball Union fell victim to the Hermon tide by a tally of 9-2. Lawrence followed the list as the Netter men scored six goals to their opponent's three. The final game of the season saw Deerfield pitilessly squash a hopeful Hermon team 11-3.

A strong tennis squad swamped Williston 8-1. It set back Brattleboro 9-0 and continued its victories by a 9-0 victory over Vermont Academy. The Springfield Freshmen succeeded in squeezing one match as they were beaten by a so far undefeated Hermon team 8-1. The Deerfield racqueteers, however, set the whole team back on their heels with a 9-0 defeat for the final meet of the season.

Golf in its only match of the season was able to tie a heretofore undefeated Kimball Union combination. Van Orden and Macguire won their matches, while Captain Rae and Downing dropped theirs. In order to decide the tie, a best-ball arrangement was made, which also came to a tie.

Track emerged victorious from a triangular meet with Vermont and Greenfield. The Hermon score was 99.5, the others trailing with 27 and 16.5 respectively. A meet with the Mass. State Frosh gave the Maroon 107 to their opponents' 10. Deerfield was subdued by an 84-to-33 margin. In the Interscholastics, although handicapped by the loss of important members ill with the mumps, the team annexed a second place. Foster of Hermon set a new school record in the half mile. Loomis, the winner of the meet, piled up 44½ points, Hermon followed with 35½, and Wilbraham and Kimball Union trailed with 32 and 21 respectively.

SHADOW LAKE

STUDENT COUNCIL

FROM a survey of the work accomplished by the Student Council this year, in the administration of its duties and the achievements of its efforts, it seems evident that this has been one of the most notable years in the student government on the Hill. This democratic group has established several milestones of progress that will be markers for future councils.

The most significant achievement has been, perhaps, the ability of the council to be more than a disciplinarian body. Important as hours of work and extra study are to student moral and behavior, the failure of any student council to accomplish constructive action for the benefit of the students would be a real disappointment. The spirit and the determination to have positive action for school betterment displayed this year by the student council have added many miles of progress on the long path of successful school life. The difficult problem of rationed coffee, for instance, was handled with admirable success, and the council had dealt many a good blow in the fight for more freedom and flexibility in off-campus permissions.

With spirit and determination the Student Council has assumed the real leadership of the students which makes for progressive action. The popular president of the Council, Chuck Keevil, has demonstrated some remarkable abilities as a diplomat in open forums, as a hard worker in faculty and school-administrative relations, and as a busy executive of the many details of a school life. Working with him have been the other members of the council, who have undertaken their responsibilities with the same enthusiasm and spirit of their president.

THE CHOIR

THE membership of the Mount Hermon Choir exceeded that of the even exceptional one of last year. With forty old choir members and with those new boys who have taken a keen interest in choral work, Mr. Gallagher developed a very impressive choir, of about one hundred and thirty members. The front two rows of the student pews were added to the choir loft in order to accommodate the large number of singers. Because of the size of this organization, rehearsals on Tuesday as well as on Friday were instituted. This plan gave each boy a chance to gain more individual instruction and aid.

Although hymn-singing on weekdays and Sundays constituted most of the seasons work, the choir presented its annual choral climax to the Fall season in the Christmas Candlelight Service. In the midst of the flickering glow of candles, the Hermon choir, the A Capella Choir, and the Estey Chorus from the Seminary sang most impressively. In May, the student bodies and the choirs from both schools gave their renowned Concert of Sacred Music at the Auditorium in East Northfield, Mass. The thrill received by the student body as they sang before such a tremendous audience will, no doubt, encourage even more boys to try out next year for the choir and the various other choral organizations.

This concert was said by many to be the best given in recent years. One very memorable comment was made by a foreign diplomat just returned from Russia who said that the singing was not even equaled by any singing he had ever heard in Russia, even when the German tide was turning and Russian morale was at its height. More remarkable still is Mr. Gallagher's ability to turn out such a fine choir and still work in a defense factory.

Visitors as well as faculty and students are always impressed by the precision marching of the choir at the Sunday morning services. The marching improves the unity of the singing and gives the music a distinct tempo. This perfection of precision marching is obtained by the requirement of each boy before he is admitted to the choir to pass a marching test. Tests are also required as proof of a boy's fitness to be a member in other fields of choral work. This year the members of the A Capella Choir have helped Mr. Gallagher in the instruction of many of the new boys.

The choir express its deep gratitude for all the guidance with which Messrs. Gallagher and L'Hommedieu were so generous. The faculty and the rest of the student body also join in words of praise.

A CAPELLA

THE scene was beautiful to behold, with long rows of gowned figures singing, and flickering candles lending a magical touch to the darkened Chapel, the A CAPELLA CHOIR was at its best, for this was the annual Candlelight Service held in December. In that program many inspiring carols were superbly harmonized with the Estey Choir of the Seminary in what was undoubtedly the outstanding music concert on the Hill.

It was not without hard work, however, that the members of A Capella accomplished what they did. The vestry of the Chapel was their workshop. Every Thursday night had been laboriously spent under the leadership of Mr. Gallagher. With shirts open at the neck, and sleeves rolled up, this group had repelled every suggestion of letting up until the finished product should attain the highest degree of excellence.

Twice this Spring the A Capella and Estey Choirs, along with the Hermon quartet and the Seminary sextet, combined in songs of sacred music. On Easter Sunday morning special numbers were rendered in Memorial Chapel, while later in the day they were repeated at the Seminary. The ever-inspiring Sacred Concert held in May, in which the A Capella carried a major responsibility, came as the crowning climax to a successful year. Two of the more effective songs rendered at this time were the German melody The World Itself Is Blithe and Gay and the stirring number Ye Sons and Daughters of the King.

As the men of the 1942-43 group look back over the year and all that they have accomplished, they fully realize and appreciate the long hours that Messrs. Gallagher and L'Hommedieu have spent for not only the A Capella Choir, but for the whole school.

GLEE CLUB

BECAUSE in the darkening picture of war there is felt an intense need for singing — happy, joyful singing, the Glee Club has continued to build up its splendid work of former years. Though there were many obstacles in its path, all of them difficult, the Glee Club has probably topped even the high standard of former years.

The Winter concert presented some of the most difficult hindrances to success. Many of the members were greenhorns unused to singing anything more difficult than barber shop harmonies, but with excellent spirit, they came through well in such heart-warming songs as I Heed Not Thy Warning, by Edward Grieg, and the ever popular Winter Song.

Special commendation should be given to the two quartets in the Club. Spontaneously formed as they were, they represent the spirit and ambition that have been evident in the Glee Club throughout the year.

The Secular Concert presented over the Commencement Week-end was, however, the culminating achievement of the 1942-43 Glee Club, as well as that of the comparable Seminary group. Some of the popular pieces of the Winter concert and others newer to the ear were presented particularly well on this occasion. In the latter half of the concert, the Coffee Cantata, by Johann Sebastian Bach, was performed in finished style.

THE CLASSICAL ORCHESTRA

THE Classical Orchestra, under the able guidance of Mr. Paul S. Ivory, has completed another successful season. Enthusiasm was at its best as the instrumentalists went to work on many difficult numbers. Rehearsals were held twice a week, on Wednesday and Saturday mornings, joint rehearsals with the Seminary Orchestra at Northfield taking place every other Wednesday. Within a few weeks a well co-ordinated organization was ready to appear before the school.

The student body and the faculty were privileged to attend the first concert of the year by the combined groups on December 5th in Camp Hall. Compositions by such outstanding composers as Mozart, Hayden, Vaughan-Williams, Sibelius, Delius, and Gustav Holst were ably presented. On January 23rd a similar concert was given at the Seminary. The outstanding concerts by the Orchestra were presented after Spring vacation. As in other years, the group played at the annual Sacred Concert in May, offering this season the overture and two accompaniments. At Commencement the last concert was given, the joint orchestra playing the accompanying parts to the production of the combined Hermon and Seminary Glee Clubs.

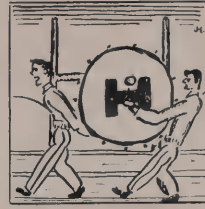

To all those involved, the experience of playing together in such an organized and competently directed group as this has been of exceptional value, besides being of tremendous interest and enjoyment.

THE BAND

ONCE again Mr. Ivory has produced a very talented group of musicians in the form of a band. Many students come to Hermon only for a year or two, this condition making it necessary to start the band annually from scratch. The organization this year was welded together very rapidly and was in top shape for the opening football game of the 1942 season. Soon followed another appearance, at the Stockbridge game. All this, however, was merely leading up to a grand finale, reserved for the contest with Vermont Academy on November 7th. Drummajorette Miriam Allen was borrowed from the Seminary for the occasion. Her snappy baton twirling as she led the band into clever formations and finally into a big H provided nearly as much interest as the game itself.

In March, after an interlude of several months, during which more new numbers were learned, the band presented a concert for the student body. This much-appreciated presentation was followed by a renewal of the organization's appearance at Interscholastic games, for at the last home basketball game of the season, which was the Green and White of Deerfield, the gym resounded with the martial strains of Sousa's immortal pieces as our team was spurred on.

THE HERMON KNIGHTS

THE Hermon Knights, as large an asset as possible to the social season of the Northfield Schools, have upheld the high standard of previous years in providing smooth, relaxed swing for the average dancer and a little of the "solid stuff" for the jitterbug.

It was doubtful, however, at the beginning of the year, as to the calibre of the band that was being organized. A smooth-sounding swing band was not the easiest thing to piece together from the three members of last year's group and a varied assortment of newcomers. But under Jack Ferguson as leader and

Paul Royar as manager, the results of hard work began to appear. On Saturday nights before the movies and at nearly every social occasion the clever group of musicians really showed the way with their combinations of jive and slow stuff.

A hot-trumpet section is one of the chief reasons for the band's success. Bill Welliver, hitting those high ones in true Ziggy Elman style, together with able Bill Heiser, made up this unit. The other brass section was competently filled by John Stewart and Bob Wilkinson, trombonists deluxe. Fergie added his stylistic piano rhythm, while Doc Dawless, when he wasn't acting, really strummed his guitar. Reliable Gus Lindquist took the lead in the sax section with his numerous rides. Buster Forrest, Bruce Gillette, and Corky Terhune rounded out this melodic section. Drummerboy Dick Green, and the latest addition to the band, Bob Leonard, slapping the bass, completed the organization, unquestionably a successful one.

HERMONITE

AS the class of 1943 completes a successful year, so does the HERMONITE. This organ of student expression is rounding out its fifty-third year of continual publication, and it must be said that not once in that long expanse of time has the HERMONITE failed to attain its high standards. The board of 1942-43 took into account the work done by the different boards in previous years, but in accordance with the true Hermon spirit it tried to do a better job.

The board has attempted to incorporate new features into the paper so that the students might feel more than ever before that it was their paper. More frequently were featured polls of questions concerning the students, and student editorials were also an important part of each issue.

May next year's board carry on in the traditions set forth by this year's staff. May the student body never forget the corny humor in The Operator Squeaks, and may Mr. Morrow never forget the editors of Hodge-Podge.

The HERMONITE is no crusading "sheet," nor is it a sombre paper which hushes up student and faculty errors. Those on the board have tried to present Mount Hermon as it is, and under the able leadership of Editor-in-Chief Bob Ajemian, and by the full co-operation of the board, they feel that they have done that.

THE outstanding purpose of the International Club during the past nine months has been to promote the "give and take" among the boys of different nations. Such sections of the world as Europe, the Middle East, the Far East, and the Latin American countries are represented by the boys in this group.

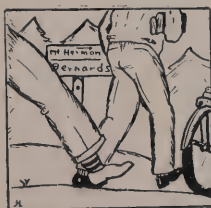

The main topic of discussion during 1942-43 was "Post-war planning in making a durable peace." Toward the middle of the year, attention was drawn to the study of the various nations. The club planned ways to help nations appreciate and be of service to one another.

The "give and take" was also between the students and the faculty in the meetings. Such distinguished men of the faculty as Messrs. Wabeke, Straetz, and Mackauer, and Dr. Porter gave addresses. Certain boys representing various nations gave pictures of their home lands at the meetings, China and Austria, especially, being admirably described by the student speakers.

JIM FAIRBANKS, Marshall Climan, Whitey Wilbur, Dick Moody, and Dink Hopkins were selected by the Captains' Club this year to be the leaders of the Hermon cheers that echoed up and down the valley at all the home sport events. The biggest show of all was put on for the Williston football game. Camp Hall was the scene of a gigantic pep-rally. On the stage the cheerleaders with their amusing antics and the new cheers sent the spirits soaring in an impassioned crowd of football followers.

Another big day for the cheerleaders was that of the football game with Vermont Academy. On that occasion their number was increased by three, as the Seminary lent us cheerleaders in the persons of the Misses Bobby and Ginny Bilkert and Sally Gibson. These enthusiastic girls, appropriately dressed in Maroon skirts and White sweaters, were a tremendous help in inspiring our team to its biggest victory of the season.

THE Commuters' Club, as the name implies, is composed of students attending Mount Hermon from the neighboring towns. The Club was formed with the purpose of effecting for its members a closer student-school relationship, a course that has been successfully pursued throughout the year.

Day-students are naturally at a disadvantage when it comes to getting the most out of life here on the Hill, for they do not live in the dormitories and cannot participate in all the extra-curricular activities. Yet they do maintain very close connections with the school and the student body as a whole. In the basement of Recitation Hall the Commuters have a room where they may go during free time to study or relax. The Library is open to them all day, and the Administration has conceded to them the use of the Social Hall every afternoon. There, under the able assistance of Mr. Stent, as faculty adviser, they hold their weekly meetings and discussed matters related to the school.

THIS young group of enthusiasts has furthered its knowledge of the basic principles of aeronautics through the construction and study of model gasoline planes. Many of the member's efforts have proved successful, and there has been much interest in this organization this year.

One of the major activities that this club participated in was the Annual Spring Hobby Show, in which it displayed a remarkable exhibit of many types of models as well as other feats of aviation.

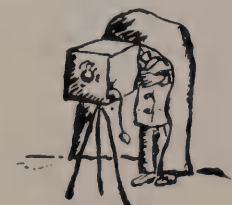

Because of the enthusiasm of its members this club should continue to be of much interest to those attracted by aviation.

THE Camera Club, a comparatively inconspicuous interest group, has had another year of work and training under its president, Dave Osborne, and its faculty adviser, Mr. Sargent. The club kept in mind, as a goal, the photographic training suggested by the Army and Navy. In connection with this goal, the members endeavored to learn the basic fundamentals of cameras, films, chemicals, and similar features. Much stress was placed on improving their dark-room technique.

The club, which maintained a membership of eighteen, contributed its efforts very generously to the Photographic Department of the GATEWAY. In addition to this, those who were more enthusiastic were admitted as a group into the Victory Corps. With a much larger darkroom and newer facilities installed, this organization should continue to function as a valuable asset to the campus in future years.

ALTHOUGH the Faraday Club has been active on the Hermon campus for only five years, it has made for itself a large place in the Hermon community. Under the able guidance of Mr. Laurence, who has been continuously on call to help its members, the club program has been noticeably enlarged.

The club's members, on Sundays after Chapel, have presented some of the following subjects and demonstrations: Babcock milk test, electric music, elementary Electronics, Sulfa-drugs, milling of khaki cloth, dehydration of foods, and A. C. Mathematics. The faculty also has had its representatives, including Dr. Bowman, Mr. Hatch, and Mr. Laurence, who have presented to its members most interesting lectures.

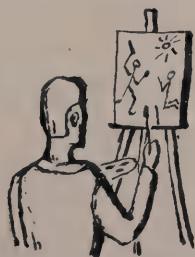

The members of this organization wish to express special appreciation to Messrs. Pyper, Hatch, and Bowman, and to their adviser, Mr. Laurence, for their ever-present, friendly advice and aid.

EVEN though the Art Club is one of the newer groups on the Hill, it has assumed an important position in Hermon activities. Under the careful direction of Mr. Thach and with the able assistance of Mr. Squires, this group has contributed much to the appreciation of graphic art for its own members and for the students in general.

With paint brushes, charcoal sticks, and pencils, artists from the club have sought out some of the best scenery this part of the Connecticut Valley has to offer.

At the time of the Victory Corps stamp sales, the members generously devoted their talents to the making of several posters and graphs for the recording of the height of patriotic fever in the student purchase of war stamps.

ONE of the most experienced active debating clubs in years comprising fifteen members started out the season with the series of intraschool debates designed primarily for experience. The somewhat limited group of interscholastic debates included two with Deerfield Academy and one with the Northfield Seminary. The season was highlighted by the trial in the Deerfield debates of the Oregon System of mixed school teams. Seniors, Lee Perry, Kenneth Housman, Richard Hoffman, and Ted Simpson had outstanding success in this new mode of debating on a topic concerning post-war organization. The club also sponsored talks on national issues in school assemblies. This year, especially, the debaters successfully impressed upon the student body the seriousness of national and international issues. No doubt the silver-tongued orators owe much credit for their success to the skillful guidance of Mr. Erickson.

THE aim of the Student Deacon group is to give Students advice in the religious life at Mount Hermon. Members of this board of twelve belong to the Church Executive Committee, having an opportunity to present student ideas and views at Committee meetings throughout the school year.

One of the Deacons' most-important functions is that of ushering and taking collection at Sunday services. They direct the work of the annual old-clothes drive and serve as host to the visitors over Embassy Weekend. Many Sunday afternoon forums were under the direction of this group.

Six students started the year's work, later to be joined by six more, filling the quota of twelve. At an early meeting the group was subdivided into four committees, each having charge of a special phase of the year's program.

THE MOUNT HERMON VICTORY CORPS

ISOLATED as she is from the war atmosphere, Hermon, last fall, took it upon herself to do something more than merely prepare in a general way for service to the country. She has joined in the nation wide secondary-school Victory Corps, and since then her members have been contributing to the war effort first, by continuing all the financial aid possible through War Bond purchases, secondly, by building themselves up physically, and lastly, by concentrating each in some elementary field of pre-Service training. The active support of the plan was excellent at the outset, with more than four hundred Hermonites voluntarily responding to the call. After its organization the Victory Corps subdivided itself into less-cumbersome sections, where the vast bulk of the year's work has been accomplished, the body as a whole convening only for an occasional meeting or a pertinent movie. Practically every conceivable phase of mobilization had its exponent at Hermon, being at least partly represented in one of the eighteen activities herein enumerated.

The Pre-Flight group was the first to swing into action with an enthusiastic study of the training necessary to become a participant in the Air Corps. Closely related to this aviation group was the Meteorology section, its members gaining an insight into the skills of weather prediction. Naval prospects were afforded a chance in one of the two Navigation sections, subdivided according to experience in mathematics. Younger boys had a chance in General Shop and Map Reading. Other technical-tending fellows took up Mechanical Drawing, an indispensable requisite for the times. The sciences, too, had their representatives in the Gas-Engine group, and in a consideration of the aspects of Chemical Warfare. The needs of Communication in war-time via codified radio were taken up in the Communications group. The old-established Photography Club diverted its peacetime attentions to more serious business. Outdoor boys specialized in the mobilization of Forestry and Agriculture for the emergency. Linguistically talented youths got an eye-opener to war-German and French. A very practical and conscientious group, First Aid, headed up by Mr. Ralph Sargent, completed the requirements for Red Cross recognition. The more abstract world problems of the conflict were studied by the International Club and the newly organized Seminar on War and Post-War Problems. Even the knacks of Recreational Leadership were covered by a group of that name.

All in all, the Victory Corps in its inaugural year gave its members a feeling of duty and service rendered to our country at war, while simultaneously preparing them more fully for the task that confronts them.

DRAMATIC CLUB

1942-43 marked one of the most eventful years in the history of the Hermon Players. The officers for the year were Philip Ozab (President), Wendell Riggs (Vice-president), and Carrington Thomas (Secretary-treasurer).

The dramatic season opened on October seventeenth with the Star-Gateway Rally, a variety show which was presented at the auditorium of the Northfield Seminary. This was the first time that any such attempt at a combined show to raise money for the combined yearbooks was tried. Hermon's half of the program was a vaudeville show divided into two parts: J. Caesar, a comic burlesque of Shakespeare's Julius Caesar, and Chevrolet Coupe's Dancing Dainties — commonly known as Can-Can girls. Both were received with much enthusiasm and merriment, although the former was met with few raised eyebrows — Northfield Victorian eyebrows.

November twenty-fifth marked the outstanding three-act play of the year Out of The Frying Pan by Francis Swann. The comedy was hilariously amusing from beginning to end, each of the characters playing his part excellently to produce a humorous climax. The club extends its thanks and appreciation to the faculty wives who participated in this production and to the fellows who spent their afternoons in tedious rehearsal.

The Winter season saw a new type of drama introduced, namely, The Missing Witness. Camp Hall became the Supreme Court of Franklin County for the evening, with policemen ushering in the aisles and not hesitating to bounce any who violated the court rules. The witnesses, for realistic effect, rose from the audience to take the stand, thus creating the feeling that the audience was actually a part of the performance.

Assembly performances, consisting of Victory Corps programs, were also a novelty in Hermon's dramatics, not to mention a radio play directed by Lee Perry. The latter consisted of a reasonable facsimile of an actual radio broadcast, although no actual broadcasting was done.

In its entirety, the year was a busy and successful one. Interest in drama, ranging from the legitimate stage to radio broadcasting, has been well sustained in the school. No previous year has seen as many productions, nor the variety. The Hermon Players extend their heartfelt thanks and gratitude to Mr. Morrow without whom the success of the year could not have been realized.

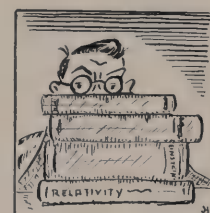

The interest in drama has been well founded this year, and it is our sincere hope that the classes to follow will not only support this interest but further develop it. Drama in past years has not played too important a role in school activities, but is the aim of the Dramatic Club that eventually drama will play just as important a role as sports or the choral groups.

THE Cum Laude Society is a national secondary-school fraternity corresponding to the collegiate Phi Beta Kappa Society. In 1929 Mount Hermon received its charter, and in the years following has annually elected a small group of outstanding members of the graduating class to this organization. Membership can be attained only by a ranking in the upper tenth of the class at Hermon, not the upper fifth as in most schools. Furthermore, the candidate must have a good citizenship record and be at least in his second year at Mount Hermon.

Mr. Morse, the secretary of the Mount Hermon Chapter, made the presentation of the Cum Laude Certificates and Keys in assembly on May 8. The impressive service included a reading from the Ecclesiastes which presents in itself the values of wisdom and labor for which the group was being recognized.

All members of the faculty who have attained membership in the college Phi Beta Kappa Societies are elected honorary members of the Hermon Chapter of Cum Laude. The heads of the various departments are also honored in this way. It is notable that Dr. Porter, besides being President of the Mount Hermon Chapter, is also President General of the National Association of Cum Laude Societies.

IN the editing and composing of this year's GATEWAY, the board has had many difficulties to overcome. The scarcity of various types of metals and photographic supplies seriously threatened the pictorial elements of the yearbook, but happily enough, these problems had been more than satisfactorily solved. This collection of photographs and writings constitutes a rather incomplete record of the senior class, but it is sincerely hoped that the yearbook may recall here and there the incidents and experiences of the several years spent here on the Hill.

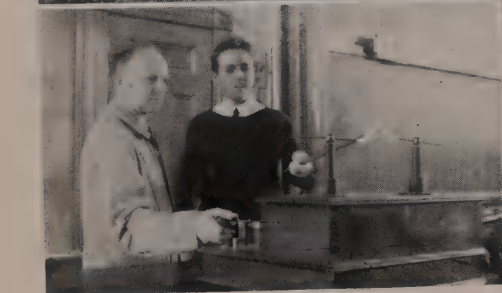

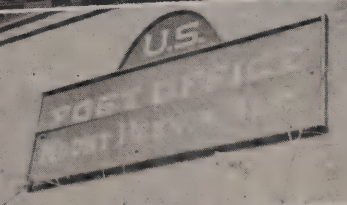

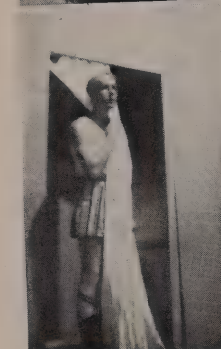

In this, our last will and testament, we have tried and have succeeded in presenting a truly accurate picture of Hermon life or it seems to be — a bed of roses. Farewell bonny hilltops.

Special acknowledgment is here rendered to Mr. Arthur D. Platt and to Mr. Louis E. Smith of the faculty, whose understanding and guidance helped us over many a hurdle.
